

Characterization

Pick one character per day. Use the excerpts from the play to find the information for each box. Next to the box, write the page number the information came from. The character of Romeo is done for you.

-physical appearance – based on what other characters say or what they say about themselves, how do you think the character looks? Some information may be directly stated, but you may have to make inferences as well.

-traits-these are things about the character's behavior. You can figure these out by what a character says or does. You can also figure this out by what others say about the character.
